Welcome Mat Dusted Off For Homecoming

TEN BEAUTIES NOMINATED FOR QUEEN; STUDENT CHOICE SECRET

Ten beautiful co-eds were nominated for the highest honor the student body of Southern can confer—that of being Homecoming Queen—in a preliminary balloting Oct. 17.

A second vote on Oct. 24 will narrow the field to five candidates, whose names will be announced as the Queen and her Court. Which of the five is the top-ranking candidate will be a deeply guarded secret until her introduction and coronation at the Homecoming Dance Nov. 2.

The favorites nominated in the first balloting were: Barbara Melvin of Du Quoin, Catherine Sullivan of Harrisburg, Marilyn Henderson of Marion, Joan Fairbairn of Johnstone City, Aliene Kauzlarich of Christopher, Eleanor White of Equality, Gladys Ruth Taylor of Benton, and Phyllis Roy of Gary, Ind.

Nine girls from the freshmen and sophomore classes received nominations for queen's attendants—Erma Douglas of Dongola, Dortha Gahan of Flora, Elizabeth Bonner of Fairfield, Georgia Mircheff of Madison, Marian McKemie of Benton, Georgia Lane Hagler of Murphysboro, Nada Kauzlarich of Christopher, Florence Crim of Carbondale, and Bessie Mae Ice of West Frankfort. The two receiving the most votes in the Oct. 24 election will win places in the queen's court.

A more elaborate coronation ceremony than usual is being planned by the Homecoming committee. The coronation will take place at 11 o'clock.

DIRECTS BAND

JOHNNY "SCAT" DAVIS
And His Orchestra

Johnny "Scat" Davis Plays Nov. 2 Dance

Engagement of Johnny "Scat" Davis and his 16-piece orchestra to play for the Southern Homecoming Dance here November 2 has been announced by Ralph Myers of Grand Chain, student chairman of the dance band committee.

Davis and his "sweet-and-swing" band have recently returned from an extended engagement in Reynosa, Mexico, and have an impressive string of triumphs in ballrooms, night clubs and theaters of the country to their credit, including Chicago's Aragon, Trianon, Rainbo rooms and the Black Hawk Restaurant.

Featured vocalist for the Homecoming Dance will be Jeff Lane and Nadine Vaughn.

Davis started his career at the age of 10, played with such well-known bands as Jimmy Joy, Smith Ballew, Red Nichols, Will Osborne, and finally joined Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians for seven years.

His Hollywood bow was in the motion picture "Varsity Show," followed by "Brother Rat," "Cowboy from Brooklyn," etc. It was in Hollywood in 1939 that he organized his own orchestra, which he has led ever since, except during the war years when his men went into the armed forces and he himself served on the Armed Forces Entertainment Committee. He m. c.'d shows for the 28 Army and Navy receiving hospitals in the San Francisco area, went on tour with camp shows, and played nearly every Army camp and Navy base in the country.

He reorganized his band in August, 1945, and put the big new outfit on the road.

NEW CAMPUS POST OFFICE

A new campus "post office" has been set up in the old storeroom in the east end of Parkinson Lab to accommodate the expanding faculty and student body.

New post office boxes have been installed to serve all faculty members, thus eliminating the doubling-up that has been necessary for several years in the Business Office.

Southern Wound Up For Alumni Reunion Festivities Nov. 1-2

"Sure, I'm coming home for Homecoming!"

"You bet I'll be there!"

"Wouldn't miss it for the world!"

Those and many variations of the same theme are pouring in to Alumni Headquarters here at Southern, as word comes from alumni all over Southern Illinois and even across the continent.

Little Theater Picks 3-Act Comedy As Homecoming Drama

With campus talent fortified by returning veterans, the Little Theater this fall will present the Moss Hart-George Kaufman comedy as its Homecoming offering, on Friday night, November 1, in Shryock Auditorium.

The production will be directed by Dr. P. Merville Larson, new chairman of the speech department, who came to Southern this fall from South Texas State Teachers College at Kingsville, Texas.

Thirty-two new probationary members were selected following tryouts, and 27 probationary technicians were chosen.

The screw-ball comedy, which convulsed Broadway and later made the movies, is a fast-paced play, depending as much on hilarity of situation as on dialogue.

Yes, it will be Homecoming at Southern Nov. 1 and 2—and all indications point to the biggest and best ever held.

Anticipating the biggest crowd in history, the Homecoming Committee, headed by Student Dale Andrews of Mt. Carmel, with Alumni Services Director Orville Alexander as faculty sponsor, has voted to open up the women's gym as well as the men's to accommodate the Homecoming Dance crowd on Saturday night.

From Friday morning till the wee hours of Saturday night-Sunday morning, the whole campus will be turned over to Homecoming celebration.

An Open Invitation To HOMECOMING

Dear Southern Alumnus:

There's a big occasion just around the corner here at Southern, and we want you to be sure to be on hand for it.

Yes, you guessed it—it's Southern's 1946 Homecoming, with all the trimmings of former years and some new ones thrown in for good measure.

Just think of these highlights in a two-day celebration jam-packed with spectacle, thrills, and gaiety:

- * Homecoming Play—"You Can't Take It With You," directed by Dr. P. Merville Larson, new speech department chairman.
- * Two parades—(1) a snake-dance by 2,700 students on Friday morning, and (2) a march of the Maroon Band, Saturday at noon.
- * Football—Southern Maroons vs. Eastern Illinois State Teachers College, Saturday, 2:30 p. m.
- * Tea at Anthony Hall, for all Southern Alumni.
- * Dancing to a big-name band.
- * Informal party for non-dancers.
- * Coronation of Southern's 1946 Queen and presentation of her court.

We do hope you'll be here. We'll be crowded, we must warn you, and it may be difficult to find meals (why not bring a box lunch from home?), but you'll see all your old friends, and, we hope, make many new ones!

Sincerely,

Chester F. Lay, President
Orville Alexander, Homecoming Faculty Chairman
Dale Andrews, Homecoming Student-Chairman---

Alumni Board To Meet At Roberts Hotel

A meeting of the Board of the Southern Alumni Association has been called for Saturday morning, November 1, at 10 o'clock at the Roberts Hotel, by Dr. Percival Bailey of Chicago, president.

Dr. Bailey reports that one of the major items to come up for consideration is the Association's new constitution, on which a committee is now working.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

It's Your Alumni Association Too

If you are an alumnus of Southern, you are naturally interested in your university and in its progress and welfare. Perhaps you think of it only occasionally, when you see in the newspaper that the Maroons have won another football game, or have won a basket ball championship, or that enrollment has now climbed to more than 2,700 students, or that Southern has gotten another housing project for veteran students.

Maybe you occasionally talk about it with your old classmates when you meet for coffee or bridge, or when the boy or girl next door comes home from school. Oh yes, you're glad that Southern is growing, that it has become a university in fact as well as in name, and you wish it well.

But what are you doing about it? What are you doing to help make it strong, to help weld a forceful organization of loyal supporters who will see to it that Southern continues to grow, and that it receives the financial backing that it must have to accommodate its expanding student body and to become a still greater regional university?

What can you do? There's one thing that every single former student could do to help Southern—and that is, to join the Alumni Association, pay your dues, and link yourself with Southern's other active supporters. Your dues will help the Association expand its services to you—perhaps we can even get The Southern Alumnus back to its former size—and help it expand its services to the University. You should know that the Association has joined with the administration of Southern and with the alumni associations and the administrations of the other colleges in the State Teachers College System in a statewide educational program to seek better support for the educational system of Illinois, particularly teacher education; the Association has pledged its support to the SINU Foundation and student veterans in a campaign to secure dormitories for Southern; and it has joined with the students at Southern to secure a student union building.

Your dues to the Alumni Association will help make all these activities possible. Join the Association now.

CAFETERIA, CLOSED TO PUBLIC, OPENS DOORS FOR HOMECOMING

The University Cafeteria will remain open on Saturday, November 2, to accommodate Homecoming visitors, Mrs. Lydia Windate, director, has announced.

This fall the cafeteria announced that it would no longer be able to serve the general public because of the increased student enrollment, and that its service would be restricted to students, faculty, and educational groups.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

That Southern will observe its 75th anniversary in 1948-49?

NEW LOUNGE OPENED FOR MEN STUDENTS

A new men's lounge has been opened for Southern's 1,907 men students in a residence across the street from the campus.

The veterans' lounge, in operation since last spring in the Old Science Building, has been moved to 1010 Thompson Street, to one of the residences purchased in the University's current land acquisition program, and will now be open to all men students.

Two offices are provided in the new lounge, one for Glenn J. McGowan, advisor to President Chester F. Lay on veterans' affairs, and the other for William R. Winkelmeyer, local representative of the Illinois Veterans Commission.

GARDEN FESTIVAL HELD AT SOUTHERN RECENTLY

Southern was joint host in mid-October to the garden clubs of Southern Illinois for their "Harvest Fair" and garden show.

Jointly sponsored by the University and the two garden clubs of Carbondale, the fair was held in Old Science Building, and featured exhibits of fall flowers, vegetables, art and hand crafts, wild life and wild flowers. Special exhibits were arranged by the art, agriculture, home economics, botany and zoology departments.

Two New Alumni Clubs Organized

The Southern Alumni Association is growing. Two new Alumni clubs have been organized, one in Honolulu, the other in the state capital, Springfield.

The Honolulu club was organized on May 24, Dr. Orville Alexander, director of Alumni Services, reports. D. Ransom Sherretz, '26, was elected president, and Mrs. Gilbert Lentz (Ella Mae Hollagan) Hallagan, '33, is secretary and sergeant-at-arms.

The club voted not to assess local dues, but to affiliate with the Southern Alumni Association and pay dues to the parent organization.

The Springfield branch was established October 10 at a meeting held in the auditorium of the Centennial Building in the State Capitol. President and Mrs. Lay and Dr. Alexander were present for the occasion and spoke briefly.

W. Stewart Williams, '29, assistant director of research for the Illinois Education Association, was elected president of the new chapter, and Ray E. Hamilton, '23, now employed by the U. S. Weather Bureau, was elected secretary.

In addition to these, Carl Renshaw, '33; Robert Clem, ex '41; Mrs. James E. Crain (Rose Mary Hunt), ex '40; and Geraldine Osterholtz, '41, constitute the executive committee.

ALEXANDER OFFERS TO RENDER TICKET SERVICE

Dr. Orville Alexander, director of Alumni Services at Southern, offers to take orders for advance tickets from alumni for the Homecoming play and dance. Check or money order should accompany each request for tickets. Tickets will be left at the gate or box office in the holder's name.

Dance—$3.10 per couple ($3.60 purchased at the door).

ALUMNI INVITED TO SUBSCRIBE TO EGYPTIAN, STUDENT PAPER

Dr. Orville Alexander, director of Alumni Services, announces that he has made arrangements with Editor Catherine Sullivan and Business Manager Helen Holmes of The Egyptian, student newspaper, to accept subscriptions from alumni.

Shortage of newsprint during the war made it difficult for alumni to obtain copies of The Egyptian, except those which were sent to former students in the armed forces, but The Egyptian will now be glad to keep alumni informed about what is going on at Southern. Subscriptions should be sent to Miss Helen Holmes, Business Manager, The Egyptian, Southern Illinois Normal University, Carbondale. Price: $1.50 per year.

44 New Faculty Added to Southern Staff

Forty-four new teachers and staff members greeted students at Southern this fall, to help care for the unprecedented influx of new students.

Twenty-six of these are regular faculty members, eight are faculty assistants, and ten are temporary appointees—a number of them veterans' wives and faculty wives—named after school actually opened because of the huge registration.

The new personnel includes:

Professors—Dr. R. C. Cassell, chairman of the agriculture department; Dr. Maurits Kesnar, chairman of the music department; Dr. W. C. Bicknell, chairman of the industrial education department.

Associate professors—Dr. P. Merville Larson, chairman of the speech department; Dr. Lewis Maverick, economics; Dr. Frank L. Klingberg, government; Dr. Robert E. McNicoll, history and Latin-American culture; Dr. Marshall S. Hiskey, sociology, now acting dean of men; Dr. E. C. Coleman, English; Dr. Clarence L. Vinge, geography.

Assistant professors—Dr. Henry L. Wilson, English; Miss Elizabeth Opal Stone, assigned to the library; John D. Mees, education, principal of University High School; Dr. Norman Caldwell, history; Dr. Mary Eileen Barry, foreign languages (Greek and Latin); Dr. Earl L. Hall, education; William Harlan, sociology.

Instructors—Lynn Holder, physical education for men; Alex Reed, agriculture; Mrs. Alice Phillips Rector, guidance; Chalmer A. Gross, science in University High School; Alfred Morris Simpson, English in University High School; and Mrs. Ruby Price Henderson, rural critic.

Faculty assistants—Ledford J. Bischof, veterans guidance; Walter Masurek, physical education for men; Ruby Matthews, extension-placements; Mrs. Margaret Shaw Lynch, physical education for women; Mrs. Louise O'Neil Parker, physiology and health education; Edward L. Allen, rural critic; Bernice Lafoon Sickman, assistant rural critic; Helen Goetz, health service.

Miss Eva Mirabel, distinguished Indian painter, has been appointed artist-in-residence for this year, and will spend her time painting murals and demonstrating techniques to students.

Raymond H. Dey became full-time director of the Extension and Placement Service in mid-summer, and Robert L. Gallegly assumed his duties as chief accountant.

SECOND VETERANS HOUSING PROJECT FOR SOUTHERN AT CRAB ORCHARD

Southern Goes On Air Over Three Stations

Southern this year will have three radio series on the air, beamed over three Southern Illinois stations.

Opening of Station WCIL in Carbondale in the late fall or early winter will enable Southern to broadcast a daily 15-minute program in the late afternoon, probably about 5 o'clock. Present plans are to make three of the five shows student "campus chatter" and student talent program; one an informative program featuring faculty speakers; and one a weekly round-up of all-University news.

Continuing over both Stations WJPF, Herrin, and WEBQ, Harrisburg, will be "Education Time," a Friday afternoon program directed at Southern Illinois public school classrooms, under the direction of Willis E. Malone, of the College of Education faculty. Time of this weekly broadcast is 2:30 to 3 p. m.

"The Southern Hour," formerly "The SINU Hour," will be carried on Wednesday afternoon over Station WJPF, Herrin, from 2:30 to 3 p. m. It will feature faculty interviews and panel discussions of general topics. President Chester F. Lay was the first speaker on the opening program Oct. 16.

Dr. P. Merville Larson, new chairman of the speech department, will direct "The Southern Hour."

All three programs will be presented under the sponsorship of the University Information Service.

SOUTHERN TO PRESENT "THE MESSIAH" DEC. 15

Singers and musicians from all over Southern Illinois have been invited to join with Southern in presenting "The Messiah" in Shryock Auditorium on December 15.

The production will be directed by Dr. Maurits Kesnar, chairman of the music department, who will personally direct the orchestra, with Floyd V. Wakeland, associate professor of music, directing the choir.

Guest soloists will be engaged to sing the leading roles.

This will be Dr. Kesnar's 25th production of this oratorio.

A second veterans housing project is in the making at Southern, as the Federal Public Housing Authority early in October started working remodeling buildings at the Southern Illinois Ordnance Plant at Crab Orchard Lake to provide apartments for 104 married student veterans.

This project, to cost approximately $262,000, will be provided entirely by the FPHA.

Construction is also well under way on the Chautauqua Street veterans' housing project adjacent to the campus in Carbondale, which is being jointly built by the University and the FPHA. This housing unit will provide apartments for 105 married student veterans.

Southerners Travel To Academic Parleys and Youth Sessions

President and Mrs. Chester F. Lay, accompanied by Dr. Orville Alexander, professor of government and director of alumni services, attended the Centennial Celebration at MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Oct. 9-10. President Lay officially represented Southern, while Dr. Alexander represented the American Political Science Association.

Five University delegates attended the national meeting of the Rural Youth of America held at Jackson's Mill, W. Va., Oct. 3-6. They were George Bracewell, associate professor of education; Edward L. Allen, critic at Southern's rural training school, Buncombe School; Myrna Lou Presley, U. High senior; Phoebe Cox, president of the Buncombe Rural Youth Group; and Lois Rowland, secretary of the University Rural Life Club.

Eleven journalism students, members of The Egyptian staff, attended the annual meeting of the Illinois College Press Association in Bloomington Oct. 12. They were accompanied by Robert Steffes, new journalism instructor and Egyptian sponsor.

Southern Student Body Triples in Last Year

With 2,708 students enrolled this fall, Southern has almost tripled its enrollment since a year ago, and shows a gain of more than 76 per cent over last spring's total of 1,531.

Well over half the student body is composed of veterans—1,477, of whom 14 are women.

Freshmen students outnumber all the upperclassmen put together, and total 1,549.

Arrayed by branches, there are 1,238 enrolled in the College of Education, 617 in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, 806 in the College of Vocations and Professions, and 47 in the Graduate School.

Extension Enrolls 880

Likewise at a new high is enrollment in off-campus extension courses conducted in Southern Illinois communities by Southern faculty members.

This fall a total of 880 adults are enrolled in the 20 courses that are being taught in 18 counties of this area, ranging geographically from Edwardsville to Metropolis, according to Raymond H. Dey, new director of the Extension and Placement Services.

Adding extension enrollment to on-campus enrollment gives Southern a combined registration of nearly 3,600 students.

New Clubs Organized Old Ones Reappear

With a vastly enlarged student body, several organizations which had lapsed during the war years are being revived, and new groups are springing up for students with special interests.

Kappa Pi, national college art fraternity, has reorganized, with Chuck Rust of Cairo as temporary president.

The zoology club has reorganized under the name "Zoogeneia," and has elected Karl Venters of Herrin as president.

In process of organization is a chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Agitation is also being carried on for the re-establishment of the Southern Knights, colorful student service organization founded in the '30's by Dr. Louis Gellerman of the education faculty and Allan Bone of the music faculty.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

That there are more than 400 separate classes now being conducted at Southern, compared to 278 last spring?

Southern Chosen for National Religious Emphasis Week

Religious Emphasis Week at Southern will be sponsored by the University Christian Missions of the Department of Evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches November 3-8.

Such a week was observed for the first time at Southern in 1944, when the Student Christian Foundation, campus all-denominational religious organization, then in its first year, sponsored a campus Religious Emphasis Week.

Southern is one of 20 colleges and universities in the United States which are receiving the aid of the University Christian Missions. Among these schools are the state universities of Oregon, Iowa, North Carolina, Montana, Ohio, and Bethany College, West Virginia.

Authorities in world affairs, sociology, journalism and missions will serve as leaders for the Religious Emphasis Week. Dr. H. O. Bollinger, national director of the Methodist Student Movement, will return from conferences in Europe, if possible, to head the program here.

Other leaders include Dr. Clark Ellzey, specialist in marriage and family relations, professor at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo.; Dr. James Nichols, co-editor of "The Journal of Religion" and professor of history of Christianity at the University of Chicago; Mrs. Anna Mow, former missionary to India, now professor of Christian education at Bethany Seminary in Chicago; and Rev. Bayard Clark, minister at Cape Girardeau, Missouri.

David McIntosh, associate professor of music at Southern, will serve as general chairman of the Religious Emphasis Week. Rev. Douglas MacNaughton, director of the Student Christian Foundation, is executive secretary, and Peggy Boucher, Murphysboro, and Gene Thompson, Zeigler, students, are vice chairmen.

UNESCO SINGER TALKS TO SOUTHERN CO-EDS

Miss Harriet Elliot, one of three women representing the United States to the London conference which drafted the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization, was invited to address the women students of Southern in the Little Theater Thursday afternoon, October 17.

The meeting was arranged by Miss Helen Shuman, dean of women.

She spoke on the work of UNESCO and how women students in colleges and universities can contribute to the winning of the peace by supporting intellectual, cultural and scientific inter-change between nations.

MAROON SPORTS

By Bob McDowell, Egyptian Sports Editor

With the return of war veterans, the football problem was at once relieved and complicated. The coaches all over the nation were glad to see the record number of candidates turn out for pre-season practice. However, the big unknown quantity was the quality of the returning gridder. Would the veteran be able to show as much as he had in pre-war years, and what was more important, would he want to go all out in a mere contest after battling for his life? These, and many other problems caused many coaches to look forward to the 1946 season with many misgivings.

The situation at Southern was the same as in both large and small universities. Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin faced these problems and after the first few games these inconclusive results are noted: The veterans put out just as much as they did before entering service; they are hampered by feet injuries more than the freshman just out of high school; they are not, surprisingly enough, in as good football physical condition as the incoming high school freshman, as the muscles they developed on the Army physical education fields and in combat were not the ones they used on the gridiron; finally, the team required the use of both veterans and freshmen to make a well-balanced squad.

More Than 100 Report

Over 100 men reported to Martin and his assistants Leland "Doc" Lingle, William Freeburg, and newly acquired L. C. "Lynn" Holder. In fact, there were not enough uniforms to outfit everyone and it was a very odd sight indeed, to see burly gridgers working out of pigskin formations in track suits. However, the squad was soon down to about fifty men, as many of the candidates were forced to drop from the squad for various reasons, injuries and scholastic difficulties being the most prominent.

The Maroon representatives were not out of the woods yet, though, as the coaching staff was forced to emphasize physical training more than ever before. Then came the big problem. During the war, when manpower was scarce, Martin was forced to resort to the use of the "T" formation to take care of his small freshmen backs. He used it with such success that he decided to keep it for this year's squad.

"T" Formation Baffles Vets

Many of the veterans who played for Southern in previous years were truly disgusted since they had never played from any college formation except the wingback and they were confused by the deceptive "T". However, Martin was forced to stick to his decision as he was building the squad around such men as Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville, all-conference quarterback of 1945; Sam Milosevich of Zeigler, all-conference tackle of 1945; Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City, all-conference end and also voted the most valuable Maroon player by his teammates in 1945; Carl Birkner of Pinckneyville, all-conference second team end of 1945. With these men as the nucleus, Martin and his assistants started to form the 1946 grid machine.

The backfield was a serious problem. Men such as Bill Malinsky of Flora, Lawrence Calufetti (former Maroon captain) of Johnston City, and Bill O'Brien of Zeigler were coming back to compete with younger backs such as Stotlar and Dick Seelman of Flora, who were used to working from the "T".

Line Faces Punishment

In the line, another problem faced the mentors. Could the returned linemen stand the physical punishment of a kind that they weren't used to without serious physical injury? Such men as Milosevich, Cabutti, and Birkner were tried and proven. But how about such returned linemen as

Southern Clicks in Defeat

In the two contests before the Normal fray, it looked as if Southern was due to fall prey to one of the pitfalls mentioned above. The main drawback to the Maroon power was the lack of team competition. The men could not play together, and did not seem to have the confidence in each other that makes a winning combination. However, in the closing minutes of the Southeastern Missouri State combat, which the Maroons dropped 20 to 13, the Southerners caught fire and marched for two quick touchdowns. Many wise observers thought that the Maroons were "off" and that they would have success for the rest of the season. From the looks of things now, unless injuries wreck the eleven, the Martin-men will prove just how right these oracles are.

In the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, Southern was tied for the loop lead until the last game of the year when they were beaten by Northern Illinois State Teachers of DeKalb 13 to 7. This dropped them to second place behind State Normal, whom they had previously defeated.

From the pre-season dope in 1946, one of the strongest elevens Southern will face is the same Northern Illinois State Teachers; thus a bit of friendly revenge will enter into the fray when the two teams meet in Carbondale on November 16.

At Homecoming, of course, the Maroons will be matched against Eastern.

Harriers Defend Title

On the other sports fronts, "Doc" Lingle is working with a cross-country team that will be trying to defend the 1945 championship when the entertain the other I. I. A. C. squads and any other Illinois colleges or universities that want to enter in a combination conference and invitational meet to be held in Carbondale on November 16. Lingle has only two men, Bob Smith of Marissa, and Louis Pachineno of Christopher, with any previous cross-country experience. Smith placed in the 1945 I. I. A. C. event, while Pechineno is a pre-war performer.

At this early date it is impossible to tell what the calibre of his entry will be, but on the credit side is the fact that he has many high school stars on his roster and a few transfers from other colleges; therefore, the Maroons should be able to make it "hot" for any contenders who try to lift their crown.

Dinner Honors Three Retiring Faculty Members at Southern

Three beloved faculty members of long service at Southern received the tributes of their colleagues at a banquet at the Cafeteria Oct. 18, when Dr. W. M. Bailey, professor of botany and chairman of the botany department, Miss Florence Wells and Mr. C. C. Logan, both assistant professors in University High School, were honored.

Each of these three has retired this year, Dr. Bailey after 36 years of service, Miss Wells after 19 years, and Mr. Logan after 26 years.

Mr. Logan was unable to be present, since he and Mrs. Logan are out of the state, but a faculty gift was presented to him "in absentia," as Mr. Dilla Hall, who was principal of University High School during Mr. Logan's last year of service, phrased it. Mr.

Hall also paid tribute to Miss Wells, expressing appreciation for her fine record of teaching and spiritual leadership in University High School. He presented her with a book as a token of the faculty's regard.

Dr. T. W. Abbott, dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, made the presentation speech on behalf of the faculty to Dr. Bailey, who replied with an informal talk comprised large of anecdotes and recollections of his early years at Southern.

President Chester F. Lay presided at the banquet, relating how these three retiring faculty members span the transition from Southern's early days as a normal school to its teachers college days, and now its latest period as a full-fledged university.

Special music for the occasion was presented by Dr. Maurits Kesnar, professor of music and chairman of the music department, who rendered several violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Helen Matthes of the music faculty.

Homecoming

Friday morning for its Homecoming Pep Session in MacAndrew Stadium, till the last note of Johnny "Scat" Davis' hot dance band fades away at 1 a. m. Saturday night.

A snake dance from the campus to the heart of downtown Carbondale will be woven by the students Friday morning after the pep session, climaxing in another pep rally in the city's new parking area between Illinois Avenue and the I. C. Railroad station. Floats arranged by all the organized student houses will travel in the parade, and prizes for the best floats and stunts will be awarded.

Starting at 8 o'clock, the Little Theater will unveil the handiwork of its new director, Dr. P. Merville Larson, new speech department chairman, as the student dramatic group presents the hilarious Kaufman and Connelley comedy, "You Can't Take It With You." For those who have attended Homecoming Plays in the last few years, it will be an assurance of top-notch entertainment to know that Neva Woolard, star of last year's "Only An Orphan Girl," will play Penny.

To give "old grads" a chance to unlimber their vocal chords in behalf of Southern—a rehearsal for Saturday's game—an old-fashioned bonfire and pep rally will be held on the practice field immediately after the play is over.

The traditional ceremony of casting freshmen green ribbons into the bonfire, followed by the administration to the freshmen of the Ephebic Oath by University President Chester F. Lay will be a feature of the rally.

The Women's Athletic Association will stage its annual Varsity-Alum Hockey Game on the Hockey Field, starting at 9 a. m. Saturday morning.

Nominees for Homecoming

Queen will be entertained at a 12 o'clock breakfast at the Roberts Hotel, and will be driven in convertibles directly from the hotel to MacAndrew Stadium for presentation to the football crowd at 2:25.

Invitations have gone out to more than 50 high school bands to help Southern celebrate Homecoming, and more than half have already accepted.

These high school bands will present a band concert before the gathering football crowd, starting at 1:30 p. m. They will be directed by Dr. Maurits Kesnar, new professor of music and chairman of the music department.

Southern's Homecoming opponent on the football field will be Eastern Illinois State Teachers College, the game to start at 2:30 p. m.

During the half, President Lay will award prizes to student houses winning the house decoration contest. To insure house decorations fit for what is expected to be Southern's largest Homecoming, the Homecoming Committee has authorized a general raising of the ceiling on expenditures from $10 to $15 for Class A and from $5 to $7.50 for Class B.

A tea or open house for all alumni and other visitors will be held at Anthony Hall immediately after the game ends.

An informal party for all alumni, and particularly for those who do not care to attend the dance, will be held in the Old Gym in the Science Building, starting at 8 o'clock.

And, of course, at 11 o'clock will come the climax of the entire Homecoming celebration—the presentation of Southern's Queen of 1946 and her court. Who she will be—will be the top secret of the year until the moment of her introduction at the Homecoming Dance.
